Hi Doug – I'm still waiting to get a + response from the CDC Vietnam office. My contact has moved on and the current director has not responded to me.

Meanwhile, I thought this might interest you. The Administrator released it yesterday. It is based on the House 2016 HONEST Act which the Senate would not take up. Don't know if you are interested in commenting or sharing with others but your expertise in causality and the underlying thesis that public access and reanalysis of a dataset = quality = causation is an interesting concept.
